Adam Recke is a special 10 year old: he plays video games, he plays sports, he adores Philadelphia teams and he loves his family very much. He awakes every day smiling, and his parents look at him adoringly and with hope. They hope because every day of Adam's life is precious.

Adam has a very rare disease called Niemann-Pick Type C. This rare and terminal disease affects very few individuals; in fact there are approximately only 500 cases worldwide. Niemann-Pick is also known as Childhood Alzheimer's as it has similar debilitating effects.

Adam's parents, friends, co-workers and community bonded together to form The Race for Adam Foundation, a non-profit organization designed to bolster funding for research and awareness for this very rare disease. Starters Restaurants are pleased to help support this cause.
